Storage

From elementary to junior high to high school, children spend most of their time in the classroom.

That's why Fursys Education has researched and developed Fursys Education elementary, junior-high and high-school classroom system. Designed for growing children's bodies, it enables them to study comfortably over lengthy periods.

The design also appeals to children, letting them feel at ease in the classroom.

Fursys Education classroom system has been designed for children's bodies and minds, providing them with an effective and creative learning space.
